One valuable website for inspirational ideas is: www.deepspacesparkle.com/category/art-lessons.

One former Art docent (Dawn Ogden!) developed lessons based on:

'one single element of design (ie. line, shape, pattern, color, value, space, texture, form). My lessons followed a general guide: define the element of design, show examples of famous artwork featuring that element, show the specific work that inspired the lesson, show the completed project, and then break down the lesson into easy to follow steps'.
